DETAILED ACTION

You need to put in the FP 7-42-04, for acknowledging the submission of an RCE response.

Response to Amendment

- No amendment.
- The previous 103 rejections of claims 1-7 and 9-20 over Liu et al. in view of Warzelhan et al. have been maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 1-7 and 9-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Liu et al. (2003/0092793) in view of Warzelhan et al. (US 6,018,004) listed on IDS

Disclosure of Liu et al. and Warzelhan et al. are adequately set forth in ¶2 of the last action and are incorporated herein by reference.

Response to Arguments

The argument for allowance of amended claims has been fully considered but not persuasive.

The applicant has argued the Liu fails to disclose biodegradable resin and starch is the only biodegradable component but not the thermoplastic polymer component (Pg.2, ¶5). Liu discloses the resin composition is biodegradable including starch, polyester, etc. Although Liu does not disclose (but does not exclude) the polyester being biodegradable, this deficiency of Liu et al. has been addressed and alleviated by Warzelhan et al., which discloses a biodegradable polyester. One of ordinary skill in the art would have combined Liu et al. and Warzelhan et al. to form the claimed invention.

As set forth in the last action, both Liu et al. and Warzelhan et al. disclose polyester biodegradable resin compositions, and the suggested combination of Liu et al. and Warzelhan et al. would result in a biodegradable polyester mixture the same/similar to applicants', and hence would inherently contain all of applicants' disclosed (not claimed) benefits.
